Agricultural Club Holds Monthly Meet

PLAMONDON — Plamondon and District Agricultural Club held their annual meeting on Feb. 17 at Plamondon. About 35 members attended. R. E. Piquette took the chair, in the absence of Mr. Schaub, and opened the meeting. Mrs. Bourassa was secretary.

Mr. G. Godel, District Agriculturist, explained that Mr. Lore would be the new DA after March 1, and until that time he would still be with us. Mr. Lore then took over the meeting and outlined the following projects: Farm improvement—details and how they should be carried out. He spoke at length on rabies, the symptoms and treatment. He also explained a little about Calf Clubs and Beef Clubs. Mr. Godel spoke a few words of encouragement to the club.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Godel for his devotion and help to this district.

Mr. Piquette handed in her resignation as president and in doing so expressed the hope that the club would continue to work hard and continue to progress.

Mr. Martin Schaub expressed the thanks of the club to Mrs. Piquette for the keen interest she had taken in the club.

School Board Elect Officers

HYLO — On Feb. 21, 1953, the local school board held their annual meeting in Division I of the Hylo School. This meeting proved very successful and the following were elected on the board:

Mr. A. Michetti, Mr. C. J. Kuhn and Mr. C. Meardi. Mr. C. Meardi remained on the board as his term has not expired. The new board seem to be very observant regarding the condition of the school.

Mr. Lore, the new D.A. was in Hylo last week to help re-organize the Boys' Agricultural Club.

Hylo School Gets Interior Paint Job

HYLO — The interior of the Hylo School was just freshly painted, and the workmen of the Lac la Biche School Division sure did a bang-up job of it. The teachers are now proud of their class rooms and the residents of the district are grateful for the interest the Division has shown regarding the school.

MODERN LINES FEATURE NEW M.D. BUILDING

NO MUNICIPAL DISTRICT in the province can claim a finer administrative centre than that of the Sturgeon M.D. Clean simple lines, and generous use of glass give the new building a pleasing, efficient appearance.

New M.D. Offices Equipped With Facilities Complete In Every Detail

EDMONTON—With the opening of the new offices of the Municipal District of Sturgeon, No. 90, the district will have an administrative centre equipped to handle all the details required in the administration of the district.

Well located on Edmonton's Fort Trail, the office is situated so as to provide farmers with ample parking space alongside the building, and the accessibility of the offices encourages ratepayers to make full use of the facilities offered.

Handsome in design, this frame and stucco structure makes extensive use of glass on all four sides of the building, and also throughout the interior.

The basement contains well-equipped and well-finished wash-rooms, a boiler-room, and janitor's store-room. A large portion of the basement, still in the semi-finished stage, will provide excellent office space when the needs of the M.D. have expanded sufficiently to require it.

The main floor is splendidly equipped and exceptionally well finished in smart decorative colors. The main office is equipped with a handsome new metal computer containing file cabinets and shelf space. The office furniture is modern, practical, and good-looking. Spacious individual offices are provided for the secretary and for his assistant. These offices open into the large general office.

A feature which the councillors will find most welcome after the cramped quarters of the former offices, is the spacious board room. The new board room measures 18 by 24 feet, and is equipped with a long council table and six comfortable swivel chairs. Ratepayers attending council meetings too, will find this an improvement over the former offices.

The second floor of the new building will be occupied by the Sturgeon Health Unit, and nothing has been left out in providing this group with office facilities well suited to their work.

The general office provided for the health unit allows a generous amount of space for a waiting room. Behind the counter, which was specially built to house an extensive card-index system, there is space for the administration staff to carry out their duties in spacious quarters. Rooms are provided for a doctors office, a laboratory which is well-equipped with cabinet, counter and working space, and three examining rooms, all with cabinet space. The Municipal Sanitary Inspector will be provided with his office on this floor as well.

In every way, the features incorporated in this building are modern in design and practical in their utility. Administrative staff and councillors are highly enthusiastic over their new administrative centre, and, like the ratepayers of the district have reason to be justly proud of their new Municipal Office.

Hylo Home, School Purchase Projector

HYLO — On February 17, 1953 the executives of the Hylo Home and School met at the Hylo school to see a demonstration of a Bell & Howell movie projector, given by the company's representative.

The committee were well pleased with the performance of this machine, and under the expert guidance of Mr. Hall the divisional superintendent, the projector was purchased on a fifty-fifty basis with your Home and School Association.

The group of the Hylo Home and School feel that this move is a sound step forward in the rapid progress in visual education, and to Mr. Hall, the divisional superintendent, extends its most sincere thanks for the interest he has given in this matter.

School Or Van, Which?

By Elsie Koltowski

SPRUCE VALLEY—An important school meeting was held in the Spruce Valley School on Tuesday, February 17. Among the district people present were Mr. Nick Derko and Mrs. Semenuik from Grassland.

The purpose of the meeting was to find out if the district ratepayers want to build a new school in place of the old one, or whether they want another van to take the children from Grade I to Grade VIII to the Grassland High School. There was a big opposition regarding a school being built because nowadays there is a lack of teachers.

About twenty years back, when the people were just beginning to settle and didn't even have a sleigh, they gathered loads on a stone-boat to build a school. In this log school many children had and have a start in their education to this day.

It seems very unwise to tear the district apart. Since life is more modern and the people do not have to work as hard, why don't our people co-operate and build up our district instead of ruining it?

A van is a very good idea for high school children. It's not safe to send a seven, eight or even ten-year old child to a school ten to fourteen miles away and still the roads are not in good condition.

Nowadays, the people like to criticise the teachers and supervisors. Why do they not think of themselves as to how much they have contributed to increase the standard of education? Instead of being thankful towards a teacher or supervisor for teaching their children, they criticise them.

So come on people, realize what you are doing.

The Senate To The Rescue

(From the Calgary Albertan)

Three cheers for the Canadian Senate! It has proved that it can indeed be a champion of the people of Canada and that it is not just a rubber stamp for the government.

Parliament is revising the Criminal Code. Justice Minister Garson, on behalf of the government, had the code re-written, new sections added and obsolete ones deleted. A Senate committee is going through his draft of it. It made three changes which are highly important and greatly beneficial to the people. It is to be hoped now that the whole Senate will concur in these improvements, and that the Commons will also ratify the changes.

Mr. Garson wanted the law of contempt of court left as it is. The Albertan has objected to it. It gives a judge power to pass any sentence he wishes on any person who in his opinion expresses contempt of his court. And there is no appeal. The public is completely at the mercy of the judges. They are not governed by law, in this respect, but by their ulcers.

The Senate committee wants to establish the right of appeal. If the offence is committed in the court the sentence may be appealed, it says. If it is committed out of court, both the sentence and the authority of the judge may be appealed. High time.

Then the Senate committee objected to a section designating the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, along with the army, navy and air force, as the "armed forces" of Canada. This established the RCMP as a military force, Senators thought. They didn't like it. Nor do we. The internal police forces in Canada must always be civilian in every respect. Canadians don't want the "armed forces" doing civilian police duties. That's not what they're for. Leave the RCMP alone, we say.

And thirdly, the Senate committee voted to change the section on treason, over Mr. Garson's vigorous and specific objection.

He had set it down as treason if any Canadian passed information to another country that "is likely to be prejudicial to the safety or interests of Canada." And treason, of course, is punishable by death.

This is altogether too broad, said the Senators. If somebody sent agricultural information to Argentina which would help her to compete more strongly against Canadian wheat or livestock in world markets, it would "likely be prejudicial to the interests of Canada" and therefore the guilty person could be hanged. What's Canada coming to?

Define the information you don't want sent out of the country, the Senators told Mr. Garson. And so, in the meantime, they voted to put this section in a place in the code where the maximum sentence can be only 14 years.

On this one the Senators didn't follow through with their point. If the wording is too loose to justify hanging a man, isn't it too loose to send him to prison for 14 years? Why not re-write it altogether? If it's improperly worded for the protection of the people's rights, why be satisfied with a 14-year penalty in place of hanging?

Pierre Martin, president of the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, representing some 20 million farmers, urges the renewal of the wheat agreement. The agreement, he says, is not only important to wheat producers and consumers, but also points the way to greater price stability for other products.

Farmers' Unions in Saskatchewan and Manitoba have asked the federal government to underwrite wheat prices should a new wheat agreement set a price lower than the western farm unions believe adequate.

The Canadian Pacific Railway reported a net earning last year of $30.8 million a $4 million increase over 1951. Gross earnings were at an all-time high of $457.8 million as compared with $428.9 million in the previous year.

Those Income Tax Reports

Before very long we are going to be urged to get our income tax returns in early. So this may be as good a time as any to bring up a few points which we should keep in mind in case we get the feeling that we are badly done by.

The most important of these is that we should remember that while it is the federal government which does the collecting, and therefore gets the blame when we feel that the tax is taking a greater share of our personal income than we are happy to part with, it is the provincial government which gets a very substantial share of the proceeds.

The latest year for which complete figures are available is that ending March 31st, 1951. In that year the income tax department collected through personal and corporation taxes in Alberta approximately 71 million dollars. Of this sum $40,780,000 was collected as personal income tax from individuals. In that same period, not including the dominion subsidy of more than two million dollars, the province received as their share under the tax transfer agreement, $17,343,000. This amounted to $20.34 per person, and accounted for 16% of the total provincial revenue.

If the dominion had not agreed to collect this for the province, they could have reduced personal income taxes by 42½% or if they had cared to spread the reduction over both personal and corporation taxes, have allowed a reduction of 25% right across the board.

It is interesting to note that the sum the province received as their share of the income taxes which the dominion collected was greater than the total amount spent by the provincial government for education in that year.

Under a new agreement between the provinces and the dominion, the provincial government will receive more than 25 million dollars for the current year. This will amount to something more than 20% of their total income from all sources. This works out to nearly $29 for every man, woman and child in the province, or $145 for the average family of five persons.

Some will remember the time when the provincial government collected its own income tax. The last year it did this was 1941-42, when the total amount they received was $2,241,000, or $2.84 per person, or $14.20 for the average family of five persons, representing approximately 8% of their total revenue.

In other words, the province is having the dominion collect more than ten times as much in income taxes for them as they ever collected for themselves.

From a practical point of view, most people will agree that it is just plain good business to have this tax collected by the one agency. It avoids the necessity of setting up two collection services, and is therefore cheaper. Perhaps what is more important it avoids the confusion of having taxpayers make out two sets of returns under two sets of regulations, which would undoubtedly differ.

But what should be kept in mind by the taxpayer, if he feels his taxes are too high, is that all of the blame cannot fairly be put on the shoulders of the federal government. The provincial government is getting credit for spending the money. They claim they have reduced taxes. It is only fair that they should receive their full share of any discontent which is felt by the taxpayer at this or any other time.

Note and Comment

The leaders in every community talk only when they have something to say.

The Brazilian minister of agriculture has stated that his country could become self-sufficient in wheat within three years. Consumption now totals about 67 million bushels annually and this year production was roughly 20 million bushels.

FOUND US DISGUSTING

I'd read about Jasper Avenue and the City of Edmonton, but what a sight it was when I came to see the midnight sights! Women tramps, young and old, being chased by wolves—cops running up and down 97th street—crowds of people going nowhere and arriving there. Edmontonians just don't know what it is to spend a nice evening at home. Yes, Edmonton is really a place to see!

COYOTES VS. MICE

I notice in a recent issue, that the municipal council has voted to make application for the institution of coyote control in this district.

Before we go headlong into destroying coyotes, let's stop long enough to consider that two or three chickens or a lamb doesn't feed a coyote for a week. He eats something else besides and that something else is mice and gophers!

It has been proved by naturalists (and they should know) that a coyote eats upwards of two hundred mice a week, and when you stop to think that one mouse is capable of destroying ten bushels of grain a season, this is no small consideration.

Sure a farmer can go to a lot of work tramping over his fields poisoning gophers, but what can he do about the mice?

One can sympathize with sheep ranchers with sheep on the range, if coyotes are troublesome, but even in these cases it is probably a certain killer coyote and not the general run of coyotes that do the killing.

The comparatively few chickens lost to coyotes is outweighed by the savings to the farmer from loss of grain to the mice which coyotes destroy.

For the farmer's sake let's find as good a method of keeping mouse population under control as those that Nature now provides with hawks, owls, weasels, coyotes, before destroying creatures!

Life's Orchard

Someone planted kindness,
Along with faith and love,
And asked a special blessing,
From the Giver up above.

Someone stopped to comfort
A burdened heart in pain,
And they picked up life's scattered threads;
Began to weave again.

Someone's life came tumbling
But they met it with a smile,
And found among the shimmering pall;
So many things worthwhile.

Someone held out willing hands,
And didn't wait to give,
And Heaven's Carillon rang out;
Someone had learned to live!

Premier Urges Albertans To Aid In Flood Relief

EDMONTON—Hon. E. C. Manning, Premier of Alberta, called upon all Alberta citizens to contribute to the European Flood Relief Fund.

Mr. Manning in announcing the Alberta Government's support of the fund said that money is needed urgently to relieve the distress of thousands of people made homeless by the storms and floods which struck England, The Netherlands and other European countries early in February.

"The people of Alberta gave unselfishly to the Winnipeg Flood Relief Fund in 1950 but the present need is greater," the premier said. "The damage, distress and grief caused by the European floods are overwhelming and require a considerably greater effort than that made to help the people of Winnipeg."

He said the urgent need for flood relief funds made it impractical to set up a national organization to canvass for funds. Contributions for flood relief could be made to all branches of chartered banks in Alberta as well as post offices. Similar arrangements have been made for express money orders. Receipts which will be valid for income tax deductions will be issued.

Premier Manning requested the mayors and Reeves of all Alberta municipalities to announce the existence of the Flood Relief Fund and urge the public's support. He emphasized that the appeal for funds is not a Red Cross appeal but the Canadian Red Cross will be the administrative arm of the committee for the distribution of assistance through its International Red Cross channels.

A group of six boys got together for a little card game. But often a young chap, a little "goofy" would come and say something displeasing to us. We decided the next time he'd come and start something like that, we'd leave. This fine evening he comes and says: "Boys, I've read an article in the paper for need of six bums." As we got up and started out, he says, "No hurry, boys, the train doesn't leave for 24 hours."

Ottawa Provides Irrigation Funds

OTTAWA—The federal government plans to continue work on two Alberta projects in the next fiscal year and to make a start on a project to help two Saskatchewan cities—Moose Jaw and Regina—get more water.

Estimates for 1953-54 tabled Wednesday in the commons included $7,893,000 for prairie irrigation projects, an increase of more than $300,000 from $7,564,000 in the current year.

Of the total $4,297,000 will go toward development of the Bow River irrigation project in Alberta, a scheme to provide irrigation for some 240,000 acres near Lethbridge. The government spent $4,800,000 on this program last year.

Another $1,640,000 is planned for the St. Mary's River project to irrigate 450,000 acres between Lethbridge and Medicine Hat. This is an increase from the $1,200,000 spent on this program in the current year.

In Saskatchewan, $360,000 is provided to make a start on pumping water from the South Saskatchewan River into the Qu'Appelle River Valley to boost the water flow into Buffalo Pound Lake which feeds water to Moose Jaw and Regina.

The federal government has promised to help maintain a high Buffalo Pound Lake level for the two water-short cities.

The estimates also contain a $500,000 item covering the controversial South Saskatchewan River development, but agricultural officials said the item was inserted before the cabinet saw the royal commission report turning down the project as uneconomical.

The money may be used to proceed with further engineering studies if the cabinet decides to make further studies on the project or it may be put to some other uses in prairie irrigation works.

Don't Let Eisenhower Spread the War in Asia

FELLOW CANADIANS!

A grave danger threatens our country.

The Eisenhower administration of the United States is moving to spread the war in Asia. Having "de-neutralized" Formosa, Eisenhower and Dulles are now threatening to blockade the People's Republic of China, bomb Manchuria, use atomic weapons in Korea.

Unless an aroused world public opinion halts them in their tracks, the Eisenhower cabinet of multimillionaires will plunge humanity into the hell of a Third World War.

Wall Street corporations made $42 billion in profits last year—thanks to war in Korea, and the arms build-up for bigger war to come.

The war moves of Eisenhower have deeply alarmed and disturbed the Canadian people. Canadians don't want to see the unjust, unpopular war in Korea widened into war with China, the Soviet Union and the whole socialist sector of the world. Such a course would spell the ruin and destruction of our country.

At Ottawa, the pressure of the Canadian people's opposition to the Eisenhower war policy is beginning to make itself felt. While Tory and Sacred M.P.'s still give open support to the Republican war-mongers, Lester B. Pearson is compelled to voice "concern" and "regret" at the U.S. policy. It must be emphasized however that neither he nor Prime Minister St. Laurent has dissociated the government from the evident aims of the Eisenhower policy, neither have they stated definitely that Canada would oppose any measure to spread the war. C.C.F. spokesmen on the other hand have declared: "We feel that our fundamental aim in Canadian foreign policy at this time should be to end and not to extend the war in Asia;" and have called for Canada "to exert the strongest pressure we can bring to bear to prevent the U.S. from taking any steps which will bring us any degree closer to a general war." (Feb. 12-13, House of Commons Debate).

The Labor-Progressive Party welcomes the stand expressed in that statement of the C.C.F. in Parliament. We appeal to C.C.F. supporters all across Canada to join with us in arousing a united, mass popular opposition to the Eisenhower war program and its "Canadian" promoters and henchmen.

We appeal to every labor and farm organization, to every Canadian patriot to speak up now for Canada and peace! From every factory and union, every farm area and neighborhood, from every gathering of citizens, raise the demand that your M.P. takes a stand against Eisenhower's war moves.

Unite to defeat the U.S.-inspired Bill 93 that aims to throttle all criticism of government policy, ban and break strikes and stifle the will to peace!

Unite for Canadian independence, democracy and peace!
● Don't Let Eisenhower Spread the War in Asia!
● Demand an Immediate Cease-fire in Korea!
● Dissociate Canada from the Eisenhower-Dulles War Policy!

Farm Union Delegation To Meet Wheat Board; Board Of Grain Commissioners

Arrangements were made for a delegation representing the three Prairie Farm Unions to meet the Board of Grain Commissioners on February 23rd and the Canadian Wheat Board on February 24th. These meetings were held in Winnipeg.

At these meetings the Union representatives discussed with the respective Boards, matters of policy and administration in regard to grain handling, grading and marketing, overages etc. The viewpoint of the Unions on various aspects of these problems were presented by a delegation headed by Mr. J. L. Preps, chairman of the Interprovincial Council of the Farm Unions, and President of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union. He is supported by members of the Alberta and Manitoba Union Executive. In addition the Saskatchewan Union sent a number of union officials from each district as observers.

Interprovincial Conference

The Annual Interprovincial Conference of the Farm Unions will be held in Alberta this year immediately following the Calgary Stampede. Arrangements are being made to hold this event in Calgary on July 13 and 14. It is expected that speakers of national and international importance will be present.

Presentation of Resolutions to Provincial Government

On Feb. 6 the resolutions of a Provincial nature passed by the Annual Convention together with those from the recent Board meeting were presented to a committee of the Provincial Cabinet headed by Hon. D. Ure, Minister of Agriculture. The FUA delegation consisted of Mrs. Taylor, President of the FWUA, FUA President Henry Young, Vice-President Carl Stimpfle, Mrs. J. Harrold, FWUA vice-president and Rudolph Henig.

In all, some 76 resolutions were presented and a free exchange of views took place.

While the discussions were amicable and on a high plane, present maintained their tough most of the cabinet members and uncompromising attitude toward some of the main proposals of the FUA. Evidently the FUA must develop further strength in order to get satisfactory action.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa,

I have been married a year and we are still living with my husband's parents, although he said we would stay there just a few months until we could find an apartment or house.

Now, I know it is cheaper to stay with his parents and I like them, but I don't want to continue to live with them.

I want a home of my own where I can have the color curtains I like and the kind of food I like and where I can be by myself when I want to. But my husband keeps putting me off. I think he has got used to being in this home and he doesn't want to leave it.

What can I do to make him realize that we would be happier in a home of our own?

B.

Answer:

If he promised to get you an apartment or house before you were married, you can remind him of his promise and go out and look for a place, yourself.

All young couples are happier in a place of their own if they are financially able to afford it. Perhaps, if you do the looking and find a suitable place, he will stand by his word.

Louisa.

Dear Louisa,

I am seventeen years old and two men have asked me to marry them. The one I like the best hasn't got a job and my mother likes the other one because he has money.

Do you think I could learn to love him? He treats me fine.

S.R.

Answer:

Don't marry either one.

You are not ready for marriage and the two chances you have are not good bets at all. Certainly you don't want to marry a man who hasn't a job. It's easier to work for one than it is for two or more. And as for marrying a man you don't love just because he has money, that's a good way to buy unhappiness.

You are young and have many more years in which to choose a mate. So don't make the mistake of jumping at the first chance you have.

Louisa.

Jehovah's Witnesses Build Kingdom Hall

EDMONTON—The new Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's witnesses is located at 9603 79 Ave., and while not yet complete in every detail it is being used for all meetings of the South Side congregation.

The building is 78'x40' and is well-lighted by windows on each side — there is seating capacity for 300. It has excellent acoustics and also a well-furnished stage with many helpful facilities for the program.

This hall can well be the pride of the congregation, as the majority of construction and finishing work was done voluntarily by the members themselves. It has a full size basement with kitchen accommodation; library — which is well equipped for assisting anyone in their studies of the Scriptures; stock room for literature; and living quarters for a caretaker.

Of special interest is the beautiful painting on the wall behind the podium which serves as a backdrop for the stage. It depicts in natural colors the scene from the front cover of the "Watchtower" magazine. This was the patient work of a talented member of the congregation, and is a delightful background for the front of the hall. The dimensions and comprehensive scenery gives the appearance of being outside

Meetings are held each week on Thursdays and Sundays. On Thursday evenings there are meetings for the general activities of Jehovah's witnesses, one of which meetings is known as the "Theocratic Ministry School." On Sunday evenings a lecture for the public is given at 7 p.m. followed by an hour of Bible instruction with the aid of the "Watchtower" magazine.

The official opening took place on February 22, at 3 p.m. The circuit minister, Mr. D. E. Held, served the congregation at that time. His subject was "Practical Love in a Selfish World."
